Thursday April 22

FREE "Forest"

Thu Apr 22 7am–11pm. Winter Garden at the World Financial Center, 220 Vesey St at West St (212-945-0505, worldfinancialcenter.com). Subway: A, C, 1, 2, 3 to Chambers St; E to World Trade Center.

Suzanne and Mathilde Husky's 3-D landscape is made from used clothes and fabric scraps, and captures the beauty of nature on a dwarfed scale. Visitors can wander around the amazing cloth woodland and examine textured foliage, branches and rocks. This free exhibit is part of Battery Park City's NY's Greenest celebration, and is on view through May 12. All Ages.

FREE "Koi Pond"

Thu Apr 22 10am–5pm. Winter Garden at the World Financial Center, 220 Vesey St at West St (212-945-0505, worldfinancialcenter.com). Subway: A, C, 1, 2, 3 to Chambers St; E to World Trade Center.

Street artists Rod Tryon and Anthony Cappelto continue creating a lifelike 3-D rendering of a koi pond today on the floor of the Winter Garden, using a variety of chalk pastels. Watch the dimensionally deceptive work being made through April 23 or view the final project on April 24 and 25. Part of Battery Park City's NY's Greenest celebration. All ages.

FREE EarthWeek

Thu Apr 22 10am–7pm. Grand Central Terminal, 42nd St between Vanderbilt and Lexington Aves (212-340-2347, earthday.org). Subway: 42nd St S, 4, 5, 6, 7 to 42nd St–Grand Central.

The Big Apple's most famous station is home to "The City of the Future," an exhibition showcasing green technology, sustainable fashion and other eco-friendly displays. As in years past, the walls of Vanderbilt Hall will be illuminated with the Giant Earth Images featuring inspiring quotes, photographs, and artwork from Andy Warhol, Keith Haring and Roy Lichtenstein, among others. All ages.
